

Dr. med. Kiyan Nouchirvani

Director at the HSG Executive School

Dr. med. Kiyan Nouchirvani is a Director of the Executive School of Management, Technology & Law at the University of St. Gallen. Prior, he served as the Chief Client Officer of IMD Business School in Switzerland. Before moving into Executive Education, he could gain extensive corporate experience in Human Resources & Corporate Communications as an Executive Vice President at Lixil Water Tech, Theo Müller Group and Hero Group. Also, he held various executive roles in General Management, Marketing and Sales at Hero, Novartis and Danone and furthermore in Consulting as a Principal at The Boston Consulting Group.

Beyond, he has been the founder of Vitigliano Relais & Spa, an award-winning boutique hotel in Tuscany. He has established an expertise in Transformation integrating the business, organizational and people side of enterprises based on his deep understanding of different company cultures & sizes, ownership models and various functions in diverse industries. Here, a special focus of his work is in holistic well-being of managers.

He graduated with a state exam degree in human medicine from Heinrich-Heine University Düsseldorf, Germany